A NEWSPAPER DEVOTED TO LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS AND THE INTERESTS OF CEDARVILLE AND VICINITY.

FORTY-EIGHTH YEAR NO. 49.

CEDARVILLE, OHIO, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1925

PRICE, $1.50 A YEAR

ESKIMO AND REINDEER HERE DECEMBER 5TH.

Santa Claus will be in town Dec. 5. All the kiddies should keep this date in mind. So must the older children from 10 to 75. Santa is coming from Nome, Alaska with sleigh and reindeer.

Santa Claus in Alaska goes under the name of Omlilik Nagegeyuk and he is a herdsman of reindeer.

Santa Claus Nagegeyuk arrived in Dayton last Saturday afternoon direct from the cold country where ice and snow are known the year round. The trip was made especially for the Rike-Kumler Co. of Dayton. He will be the guest of this store for several days appearing for the boys and girls of Dayton and the surrounding towns.

Mayor Funselt has been notified that Santa Nagegeyuk will be here in Cedarville Saturday afternoon at 2:00 on December 5. A reception committee will be named to meet the distinguished visitor west of town and escort his delegation, reindeer and sleigh into town. It is expected that a short parade can be arranged so that all the children can have a view of our guest. Arrangements can be made for the use of the opera house so that all can be seated in case the weather is cold. For the children, a thing Santa Omlilik Nagegeyuk is used to and likes best.

Omlilik can speak broken English having a grade education. He is sturdy and well built and his home is at Bethel, Alaska, where he was born 19 years ago. This settlement is on the Kuskokwim river. He comes from a family of hunters and fishers but of recent years garment making has been taken up by the family.

In costumes such as religious and dancing, the Eskimo has made few changes. He says these ceremonies are handed down from the Egyptians from whom the Esquimaux claims to have descended.

Thousands of Dayton children have had the pleasure this week of seeing and hearing Omlilik and it is hoped that every boy and girl in this section of the county can have the educational treat to see Omlilik and his reindeer on Saturday, Dec. 5.

GRAVEL COMPANIES MERGE

A $3,750,000 gravel trust has been organized under the name of the Greenville Gravel Corporation. The companies taken over are: Greenville Gravel Co., Detroit-Greenville Gravel Co., Kalamazoo-Greenville Gravel Co., Loganport-Greenville Gravel Co., Richmond-Greenville Gravel Co., Urbana-Greenville Gravel Co., Massillon-Greenville Gravel Co., Greenville Mfg. Co., Allied Belting Co. The main office is to be in Greenville. There may be a reason for the insistent demands for gravel roads up in Urbana, which the public has been hearing so much about lately.

County Cream Stations To Be Inspected in County

The cream improvement campaign which the dairy department of Ohio State University and the state departments of health and agriculture are conducting in cooperation with the Ohio Dairy Products Association, was carried into Greene county this week by P. E. Bacon of Columbus. All the cream stations in the county are to be inspected. Producers of cream will be urged to make deliveries twice a week or oftener, and cream station operators will be instructed as to the most modern methods of handling cream. Sanitary conditions also will be given consideration. The purpose of the campaign is to improve the quality of cream for churning purposes in order that a higher quality of butter may be produced. At the close of the campaign certificates of merit will be given to the cream station operators who have shown the most progress.

Auto Tags To Be Brown and White Next Year

The automobile tags for 1926 are now being sent out to county auditors and other distributors. The tags will be of chocolate background with white figures.

The cost of the tags will be one-half of what they were last year, a cut being made when the gasoline tax law was passed. They are as follows:

For cars under 25 horsepower $4.
For cars over 25 h. p. $10.
Motorcycles $2.50. Sidecars $1.50.
Truck licenses will be based on the weight.

Mr. Harry Lewis, manager of The Cedarville Farmers' Grain Co., will handle the automobile tags here this year. Due to a change in the law by the last legislature there will be much more red tape for both the auto owner and the registrar to comply with. It will be quite an accommodation for the auto owners to get the license plates here.

Miss Helen Puffer Gets Insurance Money

Miss Helen Puffer, administratrix of the estate of her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Puffer, who lost their lives some time ago when their automobile was hit by a B. & O. train in Washington, C. R., has received a check for $3,000 from the insurance company. The parents and Miss Puffer took out the insurance on Saturday and the accident occurred the next afternoon. Miss Puffer will receive $10 weekly for a limited time to cover expense incident to her injury.

Game Season Opened; Plenty of Rabbits

Monday ushered in the hunting season and thousands of Ohioans with hunting license and gun took to the fields and woods on the hunt of game. A light snow covered the ground for the opening day but walking across soft fields was not so pleasant.

There are plenty of rabbits this season from all reports. A few landed the much sought pheasant. Quail is on the protected list in this state.

W. A. Turnbull Has Badly Burned Hand

W. A. Turnbull has been employed by the Abel Magnesia Co. received dangerous burns on his right hand Wednesday afternoon while attempting to put on a switch for the electric current. A flash enveloped the hand which burned the member badly. Dr. J. O. Stewart dressed the hand and placed it in splints. The burn is quite painful and it will require some time for the hand to heal.

Bible Now Printed In Serial Form

The Press-Radio Bible Service is to furnish complete story of the Bible free to more than 2,000 daily newspapers in the United States and Canada and the first copy will appear next month. For daily papers brief selections and a short prayer of 50 to 75 words will be sent out.

Four years ago A. Y. Reid of Cincinnati, formerly of this place, started a service that hundreds of daily papers have used daily. It is the short version from the Bible. With the advent of the radio Mr. Reid expanded the work and gives a sermonette each Sabbath evening from station W. S. A. L. Cincinnati.

It will require two years and a half to tell the story of the Bible, Mr. Reid estimates. Some 2,000 daily papers, 14,000 weekly papers and 7,000 trade publications will be offered the service. The organization supporting this work pays no salaries and office, printing and postage is cared for by voluntary subscriptions.

Now that the grand Rio Grande game is over, and we hope local fans can center their attention on the coming battle that closes the season. Tomorrow at Xenia, Cedarville meets Capital "U" of Columbus, the strong Lutheran squad under the tutelage of Jerry Kathman, former coach at Xenia.

On the opposing team will be Larry Currie, assistant coach to the Yellowjackets and fullback of the team. Currie is one of Kathman's former proteges.

Capital has defeated Urbana, Western Reserve, and Ashland. The Yellowjackets have defeated Urbana, tied Defiance and held Earlham, Findlay, and Rio Grande to low scores. The inter-Olio classic at the county seat Saturday should be one of profound interest and drawing power to the sports of surrounding towns.

The game will be played at the Xenia High School Cox Memorial Field at 2:00 P. M. and the record crowd of the year in local sport circles is being prepared for. Go early and root late for the Yellowjackets. (E.C.J.)

Ford Dealer Had Use For Wings Tuesday

It is not often a Ford gets into a place it cannot get out of. Just so with a Ford dealer. However we know of one Ford dealer that could not pull himself out of a hole.

It seems that A. A. Murdock and his tenant, Clyde McCallister, made a trip into the silo to throw down feed for the stock. Both kept pitching the insilage down the chute without ever stopping to think how they themselves were to reach terra firma. All at a sudden they realized what they had done. There was no one about to lend a hand and there they were up in the silo forty or more feet from the ground. After being held prisoners by their own act for some time Mrs. McCallister happened to go out in the yard and they succeeded in making her hear the call for help. She saw the situation but could offer little aid. The next thing was to send word to town for help and Jean Patton was dispatched and after working like a hero finally "dug" the prisoners out. They were imprisoned for better than two hours. It would be well for Mr. Murdock to order one of the Ford flying machines for the farm so that in case he gets stuck in the top of his silo again he can have himself liberated from the top instead of from the bottom of the silo chute.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Hot lunches started this fall on Tuesday with vegetable soup. More brought their lunches than were provided for. We will have enough next time.

This is educational week. Papers of interest are being given by the teachers of the high school. Monday, Mrs. Wilson gave a paper on the "Constitution of the United States." Tuesday Miss Williams gave one on the "Conservation of Our Resources." Miss Rife, very fittingly discussed the "Teacher and the School" on Wednesday morning. Mr. Orsley discussed the "Progress Made by Schools in Recent Years" on Thursday p. m. While Mr. Cox will discuss "Physical Education" on Friday morning.

On the Literary program last week Carol Randall gave a humorous essay on "Dogs." Isabel Webster presented well a reading "Capt. I-tel Punishment." Robert Richards gave a reading on "The Setting Sun." Jean Morton gave current events on the airplane flight into South America. This week Dorothy Shaw presented a reading "School Days." Steven St. John and James Stornont, discussed "Radio" from very different points of view.

The boys' basketball practice will begin after Thanksgiving. With Mr. Cox as coach we are expecting to have a winning team this year. The date for the girls practice has not been set.

A Thanksgiving Pageant will be given by the seventh and eighth grades next Tuesday evening, Nov. 24, in the High School auditorium. The story of John Alden and Priscilla along with songs and drills will be given. Admission will be ten cents. Come and bring your friends.

The football game with West Carroll last Friday was a disaster to us. Our boys played very well, as well as could be expected in a 'swamp.' It is the only defeat this year.

Lo, the conquering hero comes! Cedarville High School holds the championship for football in Greene county in spite of insignificant defeat Friday. It didn't count. This is a fitting toast to the future basketball victories. Football flings the torch to basketball and basketball bids fair to hold it.

Sunday, December 6, is Golden Rule day, a day set apart as recognition of the thousands of orphan children of the Near East. Children made homeless because their parents gave their lives in defense of the principles of religious liberty.

Thad H. Brown Announces As Candidate for Governor

Columbus, (Special)—It has been announced for months past that sooner or later Thad Brown, present Secretary of State, would have some statement to make to the Republicans of Ohio as to his attitude in regard to the Republican gubernatorial nomination for 1926.

During the past week two events occurred which make it incumbent to give to the Republicans of Ohio such a statement.

THAD BROWN

him to become a candidate, and immediately this endorsement was followed by an endorsement by the Franklin County Committee.

These Committee endorsements and requests, following many complimentary editorials from the press of Ohio, and visits from many State Central Committee men, who were in attendance at the State Central Committee meeting of last Friday together with hundreds of requests from individuals in all sections of the state, induced Mr. Brown to submit his candidacy to the Republican electors of Ohio at the state primary in August, 1926.

In his acceptance Mr. Brown thanked the Republican Committee of Morrow and Franklin Counties for their friendship in endorsing him for nomination for Governor, and also for the record vote given him by these counties in past campaigns.

He further thanked the editors of Ohio and others for cooperation in many official matters which have been of general interest to the citizens of Ohio during his incumbency as Secretary of State.

Mr. Brown in his statement makes it clear that he will make an aggressive campaign, free from personalities and based upon his record as Secretary of State. If nominated, he will use every fair method to restore Ohio to the dignity of a Republican State, where its normal Republican majority justly entitles it to be enrolled.

Mr. Brown is in complete accord with the policies and economies of the Coolidge administration, and will endeavor to translate such policies into State Government if nominated and elected Governor of Ohio.

Dines, before going to Norwood a few years ago.

Bank Robbers Get Little For Trouble

The Farmers Bank at Sedalia, over in Madison county was broken into Monday night by bank robbers but they failed to get into the strong box where there was considerable money.

The robbers used an acetylene gas torch and burned a hole in the safe 18 by 30 inches but could not reach the money box. Only about $100 was secured. Opening the vault enabled the robbers to enter private safety deposit boxes and many were opened. What the loss was cannot be told until the owners make report. The damage to the vault is placed at $1000.

New Paper Mill Whistle Wakes Everybody

A new whistle sounded five-thirty at the Hagar Straw Board & Co. plant last Saturday evening. The old whistle that has been in use for these many years gave way for a much sharper one with a deeper tone, one that can be heard for miles around. It was noticeable in Xenia Monday morning and recognized by some as being the same as the whistle used at the power mill at Goss Station for years.

As that plant has been wrecked and the junk man having taken it over the Hagar Co. became in possession of the famous whistle. There is no trouble to tell when 5:30 comes each morning now.

DID YOU DO YOUR PART?

How many parents with children in the public schools and college took even recognition of Educational Week in our institutions of learning? This week was not set aside entirely for the benefit of the students but for the parents, to create more interest and become closer associated with the schools and those in charge.

How do you expect to know what your child is doing in school unless you watch the development of the coming man or woman? This can only be done properly by lending your influence towards the formation of the child's character not only at home but in the school. Are you always sure that the child in school is the same as the child in the home?

Parents should be in the schools this week but of course not many of them will be. We are too much inclined to leave the responsibility of developing the youth entirely to the teachers.
The parent and the teacher should see the child at the same time in the school room. The teacher does not need to visit the home, she can read the home and the interest the parents take in their children by the child in the class room through the recitation or by deportment. Parents can hide nothing in the home from the teacher.
The child will innocently reflect it.

With more parents in the school a closer contact will be formed between teachers and parents. From this a better result will be reflected in the child. With your interest in the school, the child's interests will become greater. This responsibility of rearing the children is all yours as parents, it can not be delegated to others.

With greater interest on the part of parents will bring about more practical training. When parents fail to keep up this interest then outside organizations spring up and want to dictate to the authorities how schools should be operated. You, as a parent, also all others are responsible for schools that in a way must guide the growth of the personality, develop the mental training, of your own flesh and blood. Parents can be rightly criticized for not having more personal interest and contact with teachers in our public schools.

MITCHELL COURT MARTIAL

The Mitchell court-martial being heard in Washington has placed the whole army department on trial and reveals there is much mismanagement of that branch of the government. There is no question but that the department started out to whitewash the affair but so many of the aviation officers were willing to sacrifice their future for promotion by telling of exact conditions, that the war department lost all control of the trial. The judges were so astounded at things they heard that Congressman Reid, who is legal counsel for Col.
Mitchell, ran out with the trial.
Now the fight is not only against the manner in which the aviation department has been handled, but officers from the war and army branches are wanting to be heard to bring out inside facts proving mismanagement.
The evidence already presented and accepted that an army officer endeavored to get Mrs. Landsdown to testify falsely has weakened public confidence in that branch of the government.

Col. Mitchell may be guilty of the charge of promoting discord in the army but he does not seem to care for honesty. He claims that lives have been sacrificed on the part of aviators in complying with army orders. The public has always been with Mitchell and will continue to be with him regardless of the decision of the judges.
Mismanagement has been proven on the army heads that has resulted not only in the loss of many millions of dollars but the lives of many men in the aviation service.

OVER PLUS OF PERCENTAGE

Over in Indiana a trial has just been concluded that resulted in the sentence of the head of the Klan in that state to life imprisonment in a state prison on a murder charge in connection with the death of a young lady.

Evidence taken during the trial shows what power the Klan had become in that state, the present governor being a satellite in the organization. "I am the law" was one of this Klansman's statements when it came to dictating political rule in Indiana, according to the testimony. A certain exile from Germany once was the law in his country and even referred to himself as "Me and God". How the self styled messiah do sometimes fall.
This same Klansman a few years ago was the head of the Klan in Ohio and it has just recently leaked out that he assaulted a young girl in a prominent hotel in Columbus. Money damages settled the case which never reached the courts. What if cost no one has ventured to say publicly. It made no difference for the little fellows who were being paraded over the state in white uniforms and burning cresses paid the bill.

The success of the Klan is almost positive proof that you can sell most anything to the American people—once. Political recommendations have been made to Klan members while the speaker worked on the sympathy of his audience preaching some reformation idea, and that speaker was at that time being paid by certain up-state politicians. This very thing has happened in this county.

GOVERNOR NOMINATIONS

Announcements are now being made by those who seek the Republican nomination for governor at the primary election next summer.

The field promises to be a large one.
Already we have one woman candidate in the field, Mrs. Snow, former member of the board that passes on motion picture films.

Secretary of State Thad H. Brown made his announcement last week.
It must be said for Mr. Brown that if he is nominated and elected and can give Ohio an administration of the Governor's office such as he has as secretary of state, he would be looked upon as one much needed for the task.
Mr. Brown we believe could be as good a governor as he has been a secretary of state. He is in the prime of life, has had much experience in handling state and public affairs. He is a World War veteran and one who would be looked up too.

Another candidacy expected this week is that of Carmi Thompson, who was defeated two years ago. When it comes to a business man for governor Mr. Thompson stands high. He is not the best campaigner in the world but is a safe, conservative man. How his past defeat will take with Republicans in a primary cannot be estimated at this early stage.

The Republicans to win must have a clean cut business man who has had public experience, one who can campaign and meet the people in a pleasing manner before the present Governor can be unseated. The stigma of the last legislature is fresh on the minds of the people. The Senate in refusing to confirm the appointments of Governor Donahey, who sought to break the hold of public utility interests on the public by reorganizing the utilities commission only sent public sympathy to the Governor.

WANTING AND WISHING

There is a big difference between wanting a thing and wishing for a thing. Wanting is the seed to ambition, for ambition is simply wanting to be, to do, or to have something so badly you are willing even to work to get it. The more you want a thing the more you are willing to work to get it. Those who achieve are those who want.

Wishing for a thing is an entirely different process. The wishers are the dreamers. They wish something to come true, they are hoping their ship will come in. They "wish they had it," but they do not want it badly enough or they would not rest until they got it.

If you wish for an education you will never get it, but if you want an education badly enough, you will get one even if you have to go to make the greatest personal sacrifice. You will study at home if you cannot go to college. You will deny yourself of almost everything to get books.

If you want a home of your own badly enough, you will save even pennies until you get it. But you must really want a home, not wish for it.

Wanting melts resistance, conquers circumstances. The ones who have achieved success, who have made history, are the wanters. And the greater the thing you want the more it will cost you to get it.

THE VALUE OF LIFE

We pick up the newspapers and it is unusual not to find where some person has lost his or her life due to an automobile accident. We wonder what value is to be placed on a human life.
Have we reached the state in our every day hustle where a life means little or nothing?

Yesterday we noticed the account of the accidental killing of a very prominent Columbus woman past 73 years of age. She was struck down by an auto while crossing a street in her city.
Here was the sixth life sacrificed in that city within a week. Other cities have taken just as large a toll within the same length of time. We read of these accidents but we do not slow down as a fast going people.

The other night a prominent Congressman was felled when hit by an auto in the city of Dayton. His skull was fractured, all due to the fact that he stepped from the curb, not in front of the approaching machine, but into the side of it.

The automobile is taking a fearful toll of human life each year. The fault is not entirely with the driver.
The pedestrian must exercise more caution towards safety.

Good News

About the year 2000, says an authority on biometry and vital statistics, the population of the United States will reach its greatest height at 107,274,000. Thereafter it will decline, which is good news if the number of automobiles is going to increase in proportion to the population.

tralia, and part of the British empire,

About Your Health

by John Joseph Gaines, M. D.

Beware of Fake "Cure-Alls"

Every normal, humane soul sympathizes with the sick and afflicted, but it is to be regretted that many hearts are not up to this standard. There are those who seek, by false, misleading inducements, to exploit the invalid and swindle the sick.

Of all fraudulent schemes, the most contemptible is the one which preys on the helpless, sick man. Even today there are "cures" flaunted in the faces of chronic sufferers, too often added and abetted by testimonials from clergymen! My readers will recall only a few years back, consumption "cures" were advertised in big type, even in religious periodicals, which were in fact abettors of the crime! Ironically, it is true, but nevertheless parties to the swindle.

The human machine is a complex affair, the masterpiece of an almighty God. If you happen to be afflicted with some ailment that you do not understand, think twice before you buy a guaranteed, or secret-formulated "cure-all." Weigh every statement in an advertisement of the miracle-worker, the man who "wants no money." The money-back artist is as uncertain. Thousands of dollars annually are wrung from poor people on glittering promises that are never fulfilled. Trust nobody in as vital a matter as your health, unless you know them to be honorable. If you have money to give away, give it to the poor round about you, thus laying up treasures in heaven, instead of in the pockets of the charlatan and impostor.

Fall Explanation.
She was a film star of recent creation, and she was paying into the bank the first installment of her salary. On the paying-in slip were the words "check" and "specie." Opposite the first, which presented no difficulty, she wrote in the amount. And opposite the second, after a little coy hesitation, she wrote the word "female."

Causes for Gratitude
The people to whom we are the most grateful are those who help raise our standards, who awaken in us good impulses, who enrich us spiritually and morally, and who make us resolve to express ourselves in great service to others.—Grit.

Practical Instructions in HOME SEWING

By Ruth Wyrth Speers

Is the Shoulder Flare or the Waist-line Flare Best for You?

The straight coat or the plaited model usually helps to give the impression of added height to the figure. The woman whose hips are broad will do well to avoid a side flare. The front flare gives a graceful line but if the coat is to be worn several seasons one may tire of it.

The coat that flares from the waistline in the back is most becoming to the woman who has straight, narrow shoulders. As I have shown in the sketch at the right, the loose rippling coat illustrated at the left is especially good for the figure that is inclined to have bulging lines across the shoulders or the hips.

De Bergerac Real Person

Savinier Cyrano de Bergerac was a French author who was born in 1633 and who died in 1655. Edmund Rostand wrote a drama in which De Bergerac was the hero, and the play was in many ways true to facts. The real De Bergerac was distinguished for his courage in the field and for the duels he fought. These numbered more than a thousand, most of them fought on account of his monstrously large nose.

Gray Eyes and Sin

Among the Arabs there is a popular superstition that gray eyes are a sign of sin. The belief is founded on a passage in the Koran which classifies them as a possession of the wicked.

New Ribbon Girdles

Vivid shades of red, yellow, blue and green appear with brown or other dark colors in fashionable new ribbons, and often the glint of gold is added. These ribbons are liked for girdles and waists to brighten up the quiet and simple frocks that good taste approves. They are worked up in many ingenious ways and women are enthusiastic about them for Christmas gifts; a girdle and a corsage ornament are shown here. Short lengths with bias ends and braided strands are used.

Things to be thankful for

You can be thankful that you will soon be sitting up to a big table groaning with turkey and other good things.—
That you can now secure the forests and fields for game, with your gun over your arm.—
More particularly, that we can fit you perfectly in smart Dutchess Trousers for Thanksgiving Day—or in sturdy Dutchess Knickers for rough wear in the great outdoors.

INSPECTORS TOLD TO ENFORCE LAW

Ordered to Clean Up Motor Bus Condition in Ohio

COLUMBUS, OHIO.
ORDERS to state inspectors to clean up the motor bus and commercial hauling condition in Ohio and to enforce strictly the provisions of the Collator-Creanan law were issued recently by James B. Dugan, secretary of the Ohio Public Utilities Commission.

"Stop making reports and make arrests," was the tenor of Dugan's orders to inspectors.
According to Dugan, less than half the motor truck haulers of the state are complying with the law, with the result that the state is being cheated of hundreds of thousands of dollars yearly.

When the bill was before the Eighty-fifth General Assembly for consideration it was represented that it would net the state from $755,000 to $1,000,000 annually in taxes collected from operators of busses and motor trucks. Since it became effective in July, 1923, it has yielded less than $500,000, or less than half the amount it was expected to yield in one year.
According to Dugan, this is due solely to failure to enforce the law. "Despite the fact that there has been an increase in motor truck transportation, the commission is collecting less revenue from bus and truck owners this year than it did the first year the law was in effect," Dugan said.

Gale Plays Quack Frank
When a gale struck the home of George Nelson in a small New England town, it ripped off one chimney on his house and blew a hole through the other, leaving a stable shell and in no way disturbing the top layers of brick or other parts of the building.
